

FAQ's for Student Leave

Q1: Can I participate in extra-curricular/co-curricular activity if my attendance percentage is less than 75%?

A1: Yes. Subjected to the condition that his/her attendance should be at-least 75% in NON-DL period in order to appear in exams.

Q2: What does NON-DL and NON-ML period mean?

A2: NON-DL and NON-ML period mean Non Duty Leave and Non-Medical Leave period. For e.g.:- If 40 lectures were delivered and you took 10 lectures DL and 5 Lectures ML, then Non-DL and Non-ML period is of 25 lectures.

Q3: How can I view my duty leave on CUIMS?

A3: You can view your duty leave in the attendance view column on CUIMS.

Q4: How much benefit shall I be given for Voluntary duty leave?

A4: Student shall be granted maximum of 10 Voluntary duty leaves per subject in a semester for Non-TTP and for TPP, it is maximum 5 voluntary duty leaves per subject in a semester.

Q5: Is there any minimum %age attendance criteria for Placement activities?

A5: No. For these activities, full benefit of the missed lectures during the placement interval shall be granted without having any minimum requirement of attendance percentage.

Q6: How can I apply for duty leave?

A6: Please refer leave process to apply duty leave for the same.

Q7: Can I apply the medical leave for less than three days?

A7: No, student can only apply the medical leave for minimum of 3 days and the final approval shall lie with the medical board only.

Q8: How can I apply medical leave?

A8: You have to apply for medical leave through CUIMS within SEVEN days after returning from the period of sickness.

Q9: Who will approve my medical leave?

A9: All the medical leaves shall be approved by Medical Board of the university.

Q10: What all documents I need to bring while applying for medical leave?

A10: After applying online leave within seven days after returning from the leave of illness. During physical verification a student need to bring all the proper medical documents like Prescription of doctor, admission in the hospital, blood reports, test reports, discharge slip and fitness certificate (which ever documents stands eligible).

Q11: How many medical leaves can I avail?

A11: A student can take maximum of 10 working days medical leave in a semester.

Q12: What if student is ill for period of more than 10 working days?

A12: In this case student need to submit the application/form along with all documents to respective cluster Executive directors but the medical should be applied from student and approved by medical board on CUIMS. This is a request form which is subjective to approval by the panel of authorities decided by office of Vice Chancellor.

Q13: Shall I get the benefit of attendance for general leave?

A13: No. This leave is only to facilitate the continuation of active status of the student.

Q14: What is the minimum duration of the general leave which I can apply?

A14: You can apply for general leave for minimum 5 days through CUIMS.

Q15: What If I forgot to apply predated Voluntary Duty leave (VDL)?

A15: The student must apply pre-dated (preferably) duty leave to avail benefit under this category. However, under some circumstances, the Voluntary Duty Leave can be applied post-dated within three days.

Q16: What if my status gets converted to N.A due to non-applying the pre-dated leave?

A16: You have to get your status changed to Active after returning from leave through concerned head of the department through CUIMS.

Q17: I am a TPP registered student. What kind of benefit I am entitled with in regard to Duty leaves and Medical Leave?

A17: TPP registered student shall be entitled to 5 Voluntary Duty Leaves per subject in whole semester. The Medical Leave shall remain same as for normal student but the criteria of the eligibility in examination is decided by the Department of Career Development (DCPD).

Q18: How can I apply all the three kinds of leave?

A18: Please refer to the process to apply leave on CUIMS.

Q19: What is the difference between Voluntary Duty Leave (VDL) and Assigned Duty Leave (ADL)?

A19: VDL is applied by student to participate in various intra/inter departmental/ institute/ cluster/ university events and competition. On the other side, ADL is applied by the concerned HOD of Academic department or In-charge/ Director/ Assistant Director/Head (Non-Academic)/ Chief Coordinator of any central statutory/ non-statutory division/ group/ department etc. to benefit the students representing the Chandigarh University. The final approval of ADL shall be granted by the office of the Honorable Vice Chancellor and processed by the E-Governance office.

Q20: How much benefit shall I be given for Assigned duty leave (ADL)?

A20: This type of duty leave can only be applied by the designated authorities. Students can get the benefit of maximum ten ADL per subject in addition to VDL.

Q21: What is Industrial Duty Leave (IDL)?

A21: This type of duty leave is specially for corporate/ industry related events like industrial visits/ placement drives/ in-campus corporate sessions. The placement coordinator has to apply this kind of DL for the students after authentication of related documents.